

Storm Damages North Central

An assessment of roof damage sustained by Hancock North Central School during a recent wind storm and estimated costs of repairs was presented to Hancock County school board at a meeting Tuesday night by Eugene Dillman, owner of Dillman Roofing and Metal Works.

Dillman, had been called to the school site by board members early Saturday morning after a 3 a.m. wind and rain storm tore large sections of the roof off the school building and deposited water and debris in the halls and classrooms. Cleanup and temporary repairs began immediately Dillman said, as a safety measure for students and faculty attending the school on Monday. By Tuesday at 2:45 p.m. he reported that temporary repairs had been completed on the main building, the library and the field house, which were also damaged.

Dillman cited April 19 as the target date for completion of that part of the roof repair job. An initial breakdown of costs showed an estimated $18,445 to fix the elementary school wing and an additional $1,619 to repair the high school roof.

The cost for replacing gutters, downpipes, etc. should not exceed $2,000, Dillman continued. Final repair costs for the gymnasium, field house have not been completed.

A motion was passed by the board to authorize Dillman to complete the repair project at the submitted cost estimates. Another motion was passed to accept a bank assignment by Dillman for $10,000 to cover material and payroll expenditures pending school board reimbursement. Board member Lamar Lee abstained from voting on that motion as he had no prior knowledge of the situation, he explained.

Board President Horace Davis highly commended the school faculty and staff for their "untiring assistance" in cleanup and salvage work over the weekend, as almost everyone came to help and worked all day both days, he said.

In other business, the board considered recommendations for teacher appointments for 1973-74 term submitted by the various school principals.

No action was taken on a letter from HNC High School Principal James Voivedich recommending the discharge of Wesley Ladner and hiring Marcelline Cuevas in Ladner's place. The matter was tabled for further discussion.

All teachers recommended for rehiring at Hancock North Central Elementary and High School were accepted by the board, with three exceptions.

The teacher roster submitted for Gulfview School was accepted by unanimous motion as well. Recommendations for school nurse and teachers aids were held in abeyance as both designations come under federal title funding, rather than school district funds. Appointments can not be made at this time, Edward LeVasseur stated, as final funding authorization for the coming year has not been received.

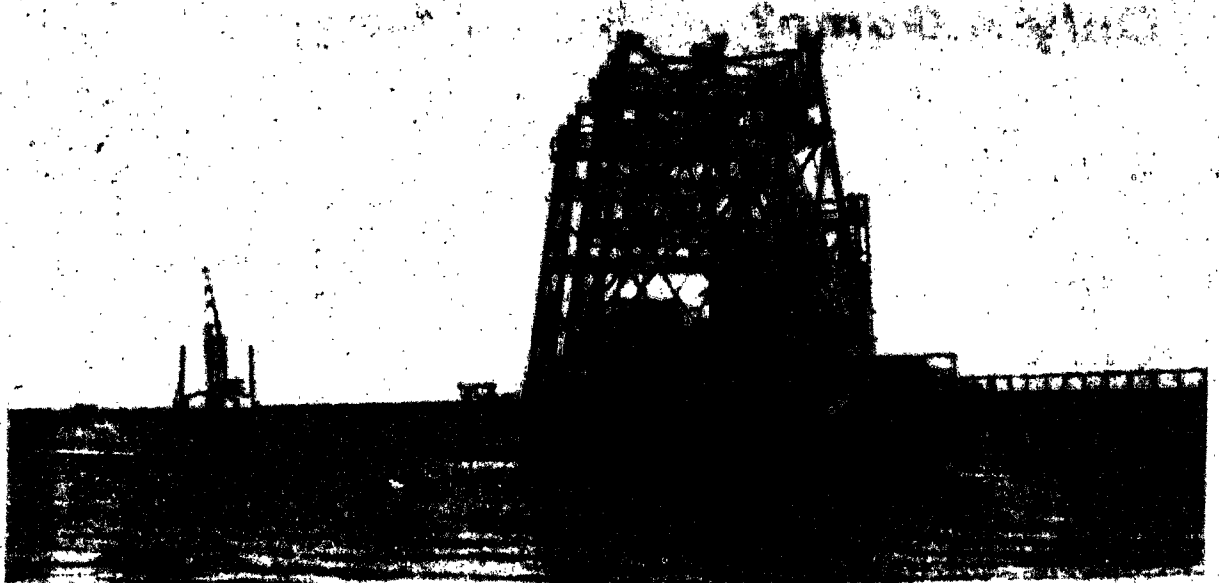

Other appointments included that of Glen Ladner, mechanic, and Paul Monroe as principal of HNC Elementary.

On a motion by Tommy Shaw, seconded by Lamar Lee, Mrs. Lucy Cuevas was designated lunch room manager for HNC. Also incorporated in the motion was authorization of expenses for Mrs. Cuevas to attend a summer school course in Lunch Room management at the University of Southern Mississippi.

A decision was reached to take up the matter of maintenance personnel and office staff at a later date.

A request was received from the Mississippi State University Research Center at NASA-MTF for permission to use Section 16-8-14, a parcel of 16-section land, for ecological research studies. The marshland will in no way be damaged, the letter assured, and studies will be conducted in the period between April 15, 1973 and April 15, 1974. The land in question is situated on the East side of the Jourdan River, near Catfish Bayou. Permission was granted by unanimous motion of the board.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE WAVELAND! This barge, carrying two gantry cranes appears to be enjoying the Waveland sunshine. Originally entrenched in sand near Coleman Ave. following recent bad weather, the barge was being moved Friday night when it broke away from a tugboat and came to rest in waters near Whispering Pines Ave. On Monday afternoon, workers were again digging a channel for a second attempt.

ETV Will Offer VD Program

V.D.—"A Sign of the Times" will be seen for the first time in Mississippi Thursday, April 12 at 8:30 p.m. over the Mississippi Educational Television Network (Channels 19, Biloxi; 17, Bude; 28, Greenwood; 22, Jackson; 14, Meridian; 18, Oxford-University; and 2, State College).

The special production will feature both "V.D. Blues" from the Public Broadcasting Service, and a locally produced live program focusing on venereal disease education and treatment in Mississippi.

The later segment, produced by the Mississippi Center for Educational Television, will follow and supplement the nationally acclaimed "V.D. Blues," which—when first aired throughout most of the country last fall—was hailed by "Saturday Review" as "one of the most significant events in the history of television as a medium for education, enlightenment, and raised consciousness."

Described as a variety show about venereal disease, the P.B.S. special is hosted by Dick Cavett, who expressed his enthusiasm for the program's intent with the statement that it is "very worthwhile to contribute to the lessening of a disease that has descended into 100 generations."

Commenting on the musical and dramatic segments of the show, Cavett pointed out that "V.D. Blues" is a show aimed primarily at young people, "so it is an entertaining show, not a documentary program."

While the purpose of the hour-long production is dead serious, "it is a show youngsters will watch, not a program they'll be told to watch," Cavett continued.

"Newsweek" called it "one of the most daring experiments yet, in broadcasting and in paramedicine," and in its successful attempt to attract and hold the interest of young viewers, "V.D. Blues" explores through comic skits, factual presentations, songs, and commercial parodies the nature of syphilis and gonorrhea, their symptoms and treatment, and the myths surrounding them.

Likewise, the local follow-up program at 9:30 will inform viewers about projects in Mississippi which are helping to combat the problem of venereal disease. A special telephone number—882-2261—will be available to viewers and the telecast will continue as long as the phones are being used. Viewers outside Jackson may call collect.

Ten telephones will be manned by members of the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy's V.D.

OSMOND A. BLAIZE SR. has authorized The Sea Coast Echo to announce that he is a candidate for the mayor of Bay St. Louis in the May 8 Democratic primary.

Emergency Blood Drawing Scheduled

John D. Rutherford Jr., chairman of the Hancock County Blood Bank, announces an emergency blood drawing will be held April 18 from 2-8 p.m. at the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

"The situation is very serious," Rutherford emphasized, "and we owe the Regional Blood Center in Mobile in excess of 200 units of blood."

Rutherford appealed to the people of Hancock County to respond to the drawing and said, "I am sure that the people want to participate in this worthwhile program and help us save the Blood Bank."

BROADHEAD COMPLETES TRAINING

Army Private Robert E. Broadhead, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Broadhead, Route 1, Pass Christian, recently completed nine weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, Ft. Polk, La.

He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines.

Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad, mortar squad or direct fire section. Each team member completed the training well qualified to perform other jobs in case of casualties.

Pvt. Broadhead entered the army last September and received basic training at Ft. Polk.

Candidates File For Bay Elections

Fifteen Democrats and one Republican have filed to run for the three city posts in the upcoming Bay St. Louis elections.

Those certified by the Municipal Democratic Executive Committee as candidates in the May 8 primary are: MAYOR: O.J. "Jim" McArthur, J. Carver, Osmond A. Blaize Sr. and John Seafide; COMMISSIONER OF UTILITIES (Post 1): Richard K. Homes, Lucien W. Kidd, Charles F.

EDDIE ENGELHORN has authorized The Sea Coast Echo to announce that he is a candidate for Bay St. Louis Commissioner of Utilities (Post 1) in the May 8 Democratic primary.

Gottschalk, Eddie Engelhorn, John K. McKenna and B. D. "Flip" Johnson; COMMISSIONER OF FINANCE (Post 2): Andre J. Arceneaux, Henry J. Prevou, W. G. (Red) Seymour, Sidney A. Sandoz and Clarence M. Ladner.

The runoff for the Democrats will be held May 15.

William M. Frisbie has qualified as a Republican for the mayor's race and will face the Democratic nominee in the June 5 general election.

Channel 8 Begins Series On Supervisors

Alleged illegal practices by Mississippi supervisors is the topic of a news series which began this week on WVUE, Channel 8 in New Orleans.

In the first two segments of the series, reporter Richard Angelico talked with a former heavy equipment salesman who had dealt with various supervisors in Mississippi. In answer to the first question put to him by Angelico as to when he had first been asked to give a kickback, the salesman answered, "The first time I called on a supervisor."

On Tuesday's segment, the salesman referred to the supervisors he had worked with as "semi-illiterate." He told Angelico that he had "felt sickened because he had been dealing with sick people."

Each segment will be shown weekdays at the noon, 6 p.m. and 11 p.m. newscasts.

A spokesman for WVUE said that there are about eight parts to the series which should be completed by the middle of next week.

Funny Chicken:
U.S.D.A. Approved

It has to happen, sooner or later. Some kid, giant and draws, wild-eyed and covered with strange patches, will stagger into the Drug Abuse Center.

As Director Dr. John Russell bends over him, the youth gasps weakly. "It's too late, Doc. I'm O.D.'ing."

"I can see that," Russell says. "Tall me what you're on and maybe I can save you. Quick!"

The answer was barely audible. "Chicken."

"Chicken? Did you say chicken?" the doctor asked anxiously. Repeating slightly the young man murmurs. "Too much chicken. . . . that's what did it," and sank back into a semi-coma.

The doctor leans back, totally baffled.

"I thought I knew all the street names but this is a new one. What's 'chicken' and how do I know what antidote to give him. I've never seen symptoms like this."

At that point, Russell notices something clutched in the boy's swollen hand. Gently removing it, he was shocked to discover a partially consumed dramatic.

It was chicken!

Suddenly, the awful truth dawned. Chemical poisoning!! Civilization had caught up with itself.

The boy recovered under Dr. Russell's expert care and later told his strange story. His whole family had been wiped out by a weird malady that the doctors were frankly unable to diagnose.

The youth's family was in modest circumstances and when meat and food costs rose to astronomical heights, they were forced to exist on the only commodity which they could afford, chemically grown chickens (the only kind you can buy in supermarkets). After a while, the excess of ingested chemicals got to the older members of the family and as the young man watched horrified, each went into what looked exactly like a bad drug trip — and expired.

Feeling the symptoms coming on, the boy raced desperately to the Drug Abuse Center, hoping Dr. Russell could save him from the same fate.

Later Doc sat in his dark office, his head in his hands, pondering this new problem. A whole new epidemic of abuse, he thought disconsolately. . . . we'll have to enlarge the Center with an emergency clinic. . . . not only chicken, he realized, but chemically grown pork, beef and vegetables as well. . . . he shuddered at the prospect.

He pictured people dropping on the streets from overdoses of chemical foods — overweight people will be the first to go because they eat more, causing terrible cases of chemical food addiction. Legislation will be passed setting penalties for possession of controlled chemicals and paraphernalia. FBI agents will be trained to look for rigs in chicken yards and track toxic chemical incubator eggs. Border Patrol agents will start arresting dealers bringing illicit chemicals from Mexico to unscrupulous cattle growers.

The worst part of it all, he knew, was that there's no way to really stop the spread of the chemical abuse problem.

It's U.S.D.A. approved.

Stanislaus Fund Drive Reaches Halfway Mark

During the month of March the drive for the new Brother Peter Memorial Gym and Band Hall passed the midway mark towards its goal of $400,000. Alumni, parents and friends of St. Stanislaus have contributed to date $215,786.36 towards the facility.

In commenting on the success of the drive, Brother Pierre, president of St. Stanislaus, had this to say: "We are indeed grateful to our many friends who realize the importance of the work being done here at St. Stanislaus and their willingness to show this support in contributing to this needed facility. After completion, our school plant will be more efficient for our work in the Christian education of youth. It is, after all, for the benefit of our present and future students that we have undertaken this ambitious project."

Brother Pierre cited one example of this great support in the case of the late Dr. John Lescale, a 1912 graduate of St. Stanislaus, who left $100,000 in his will to be used towards the Brother Peter Memorial Gym and Band Hall. "This is indeed a great gift," Brother Pierre noted, "and shows the great belief and appreciation of one of our former students in the education he received here at St. Stanislaus. However, this is by no means the end of our drive as we still need approximately $185,000 if we are to reach our goal for this project. With the continued support of our many friends it is hoped that we will reach this goal by the end of 1973."

The drive for the gym and band hall is part of a ten-year expansion program which started in 1963. Thus far the following facilities have been added to the campus: Aurelian Hall, a residence hall for 300 boarders; the Klempner-Gibbons Memorial Library; an Olympic size swimming pool; and a new classroom-administration-student union complex.

The general chairman of the St. Stanislaus Expansion Program is Lee W. Seal, Jr., of Bay St. Louis.

Bay St. Louis Police Report

467-9221

Bay St. Louis police responded to 22 calls during the period April 5-11.

A 16-year-old male juvenile was arrested April 7 at the Bay Skateway and charged with disturbing the peace, resisting arrest, using obscene language and assaulting an officer.

Police had been called to the skateway concerning a complaint about the juvenile and when Patrolman Emmitt Ellis approached the boy, the youth struck Ellis on the side of the head and ran into the woods. With the help of a Highway Patrolman Clyde Hester's K-9 dog, police captured the youth. He has been turned over to the Hancock County Youth Court.

A Hancock General Hospital employee reported that a battery had been stolen from her car while she was at work April 10.

4-H Members To Participate In Field Day

Waveland 4-H Club met last Thursday afternoon in Waveland Methodist Church fellowship hall with their leaders Mrs. Maurice George and Mrs. Henry Stiller.

Plans were made for the girls to participate in field day and the talent show Saturday at Hancock North Central School.

The flower and vegetable show sponsored by Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council to be held April 27 at the Agriculture Center, was discussed and plans were made for members to enter.

William Goodwin, 4-H Youth Agent, explained rules for completing 4-H contest handbooks, showing activities and projects of their club which have to be submitted in July and August.

Six of the members were selected to bake three bir-ch cakes April 25 for Meals on Wheels.

The group will meet this afternoon to work on their sewing project and practice for their entries in the talent show.

All members are asked to attend.

Volunteers Attend Fire Fighting Course

Some 40 firemen representing volunteer fire departments throughout Hancock County attended a course in Basic Fire Fighting last week at the Bay St. Louis Fire station.

The 16-hour certified course, which culminated Sunday afternoon was attended by regular and volunteer personnel from the Bay fire department and volunteers from Clermont Harbor, Diamondhead, East Hancock and Waveland departments.

Topics covered in three evening sessions included the use of hand tools, hose lines, equipment usage, pump operation, ventilation, ladders and rescue. One evening session was devoted to the chemistry of fire and fire scene hydraulics, illustrated with films and lectures.

A three-hour exercise Sunday at the Bay station illustrated proper procedure for drafting water from sources other than hydrants, the use of chemical foam for rescue as well as gas and oil fire suppression, and safety procedures for ladder rescue and carrying hoses to rooftops.

The course was particularly valuable, Bay Fire Chief Richard Fayard said, as it served as a refresher course for those men who have had previous training, such as Bay Police Chief William Carbonette, who attended, as well as for several volunteer fire fighters who have had no prior training in fire suppression.

Instructors for the course were Edward Friloux, Diamondhead and New Orleans Fire Dept., Bay Asst. Fire Chief Robert Andrews and Capt. Al Arnold, BFD.

Women Injured In Accident

Two Bay St. Louis women were injured Thursday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding went out of control on Highway 90 near the Bay Bridge and flipped over several times.

Mrs. Susan Lee, 712 Shieldboro, driver of the car, suffered a neck fracture and received emergency treatment at Hancock General Hospital. She was later transferred to Howard Memorial Hospital in Biloxi.

Miss Harriet Koerner, same address, was treated for bruises at Hancock General and released.

Bay St. Louis firemen were called to the scene to pry open one of the car doors before the women could be removed from the vehicle.

Highway Patrolmen Jimmy Ray Collins and James Woodfin investigated the accident.

WHERE'S THE BEACH? With recent bad weather it's hard to tell the sand beach from the beach road. As usual, county equipment was busily working Monday afternoon to clear the sand off the road and make it safe for drivers. There is one consolation, however. At least the sand filled up some of the giant potholes left over since Camille.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

Every day, many times each day, a person is refused a job because he can not fill out a simple application form. Every day a young person quits school because he can not read well enough to keep up in his classes. In the United States, there are over three million adults who are totally unable to read or write. In Mississippi, one in eight adults reads too poorly to understand simple instructions. There are over 900,000 Mississippians who did not complete high school.

In the schools of Mississippi right now, three out of every ten children—almost a third of them—suffer from the inability to read at their grade level. These children are our potential school drop-outs. Twenty years from now they may be unemployed, uninformed, and unable to make a contribution to society.

One of the goals of National Library Week, April 8-14, is to encourage every community in Mississippi to participate in a "Volunteers for Reading" program. These volunteers—retired teachers, people with teaching experience who are no longer employed in school systems, parents, concerned citizens—will work on a one-to-one basis to teach children to read more effectively. Working in cooperation with the schools, these volunteers will give individual remedial instruction to those with reading handicaps.

To encourage every community to participate, the National Library Week Citizens Committee in Mississippi will present an award to the community with the best program of "Volunteers for Reading."

May we urge anyone who is interested in giving one or two hours a week to help a child learn to read more effectively to contact his public library for more information?

We would like to take this opportunity, also, to encourage parents of all children—whether poor, average or excellent readers—to enrich their reading experience by taking them to the public library. The library has all kinds of books for all ages, all reading abilities, and for all interests. The child who likes to read usually does well in school and has a hobby which will give him endless pleasure.

Every child in America should know how to read. We hope everyone will get behind the "Volunteers for Reading" project and will also make an effort to make visiting the library a part of family life.

Sincerely,
Board of Trustees—
City County Public Library

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

As the Chamber has had many requests in recent weeks for information on the Better Business Bureau, we will again give the toll-free number to call in Jackson, which is now servicing our area. For information on a business or promotion call 1-800-322-7869. To list a complaint with the Bureau, please put your complaint in writing, DO NOT CALL, and mail it to Post Office Box 1025, Jackson, Miss. 39206 and they will take care of it.

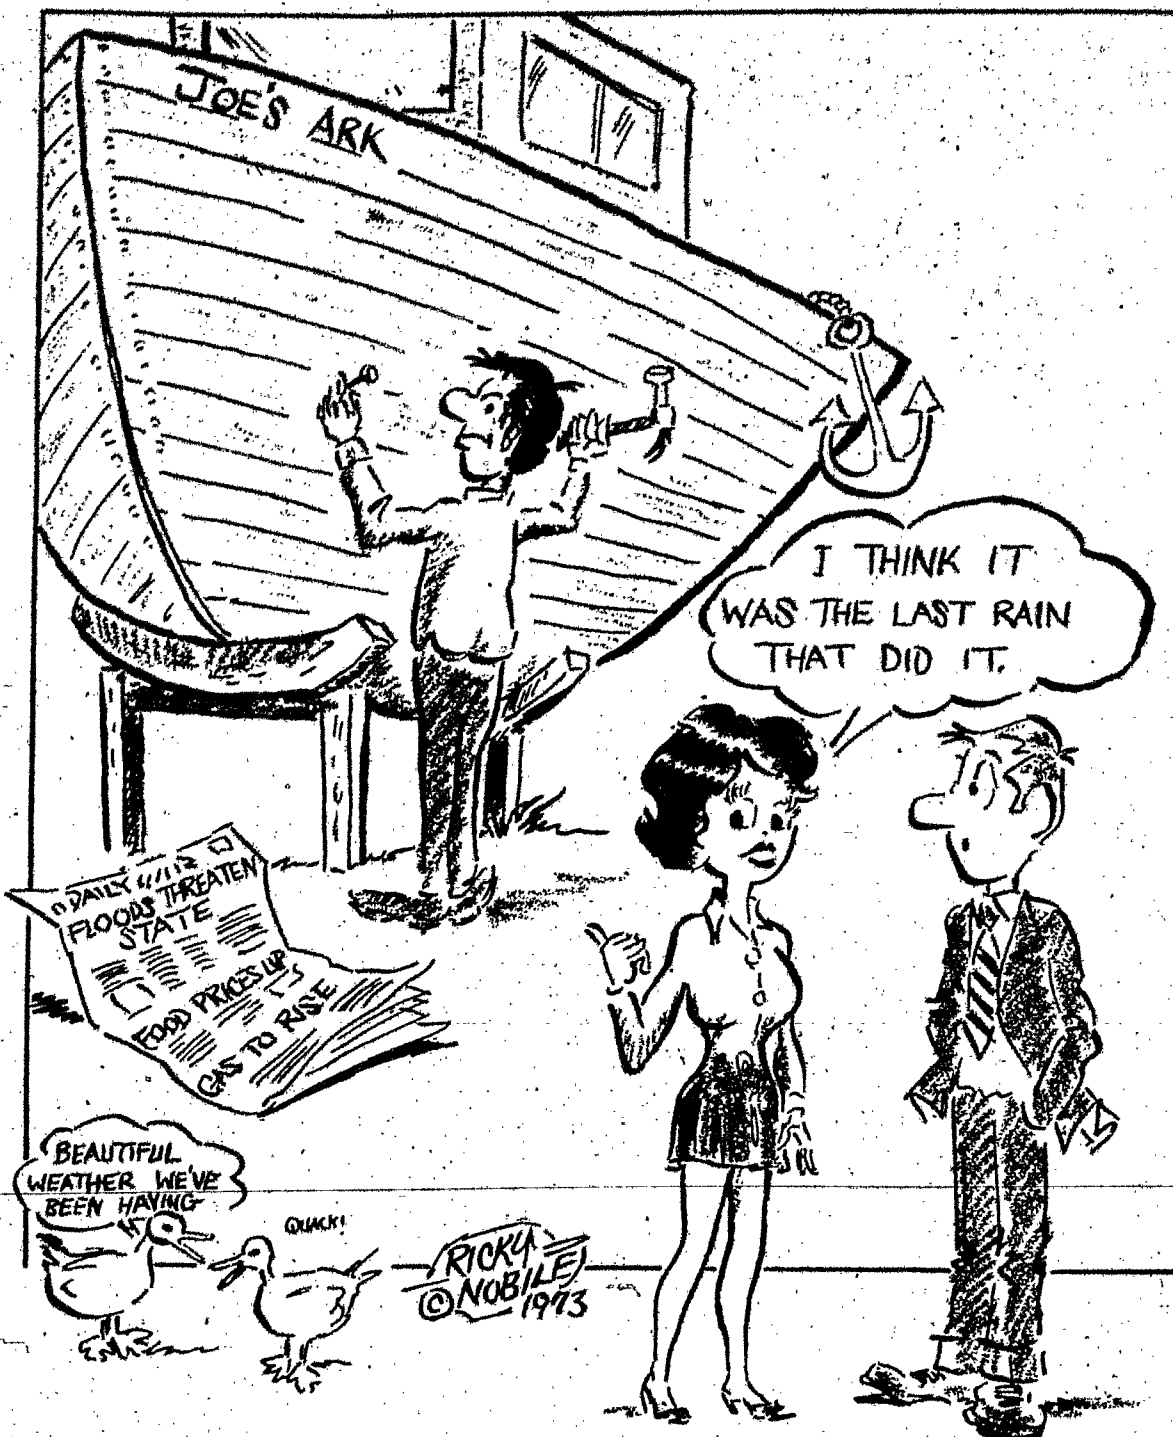

National Library Week is underway and the Art Exhibit at the Gulf National Bank displaying the works of local artists is something you should not let go by. The talents we have in our area are something to be proud of. Participate in Library Week. It's for the good of our county activities.

The Public Hearing in reference to the location of the Interstate 10 Hospitality Center is drawing near. Mark your calendars for Thursday, April 26 at 7 p.m. and show your concern for your county's future by attending. Public interest and support will certainly help in showing the Highway Department that west of Highway 803 is the only location suitable for this Booth.

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service on the lawn of Christ Episcopal Church Sunday, April 22 at 5:30 a.m. This is a project of the Community Affairs Committee and Nicholas Haas, Chairman, has done a fine job organizing this Service.

Thanks to the city of Bay St. Louis for beautifying the Highway 90 neutral ground. The oleanders are beautiful!

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

There is an interesting hassle now going on in Washington about which the general public knows very little. It is a conflict between two or three consumers organizations and the Federal Communications Commission, the government agency set up to regulate and control the television business.

Established 31 years ago, the FCC has been little more than a figurehead; it has made only a few important decisions and had mainly served to further the interests—and the profit—of the tv networks and big stations. Now, however, it is faced with a "rapidly glowing protest by the millions of tv viewers against the selfish acts of the networks in disregarding the interests, and even the welfare, of the people."

One important matter of protest is that little, if anything, is being done by the FCC to protect the public from fraudulent or misleading advertising on the air. Heaven knows how many millions of dollars have been poured into the coffers of medical cure-alls and their advertising agencies and the network stations—for remedies for every ailment from the pimple to disappointed affections. Yet the FCC has not bothered to check the efficiency of the products or to rule obvious phony-off the air where they are still adding to the high cost of living by extracting money from consumers and possibly injuring their health. It is a crying shame, and the people are beginning to cry about it, long and hard!

You can't control what the advertiser will say on the air—but the FCC can. You have to sit and take a hundred commercials in an evening—but the FCC can limit the number of blurbs, as well as their honesty. For a full generation the FCC has sat in its plush offices and played footsie with the greedy networks without regard for the rights or welfare of the viewers—who are, after all, the actual owners of the airwaves and whose interests by right should be considered first. Way back in the earliest days of television the FCC ruled that there should be no more than one commercial for each 15-minutes of program time—but the networks have buried that ruling deep under five, six or seven blurbs per quarter hour, and the FCC, under who-knows-what influence, has acquiesced like little lambs.

We wish the viewers' organizations the best of luck in their efforts to force the networks, through the FCC, to give us honest advertising and much less of it. If they don't, perhaps the time will soon come when the boycott, the consumers' best weapon, will be applied to tv stations and their clients!

Social Security Information

A leaflet explaining how to estimate social security retirement benefits is available at social security offices, according to Joseph D. Alfonso, social security representative in Gulfport.

The leaflet, "Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check," designed to help people in their retirement planning, includes a chart showing the number of quarters required to qualify for benefits and a worksheet to help in estimating the amount of benefits.

"The leaflet can be used to compute a rough estimate of your retirement benefits," Mr. Alfonso said, "but an exact figure cannot be determined until you apply for benefits. The exact amount of a worker's social security benefits is based on his average earnings under the program over a period of years that may include his most recent work."

Single copies of the leaflet are free on request at any social security office. The Gulfport social security office is at 02015 Pass Road. The phone number is WX-1323.

Secret Atheist

"I am a believing, God-fearing Christian," George assured Kathy repeatedly during their courtship. But after the wedding, he confessed that he had been lying. He had been an atheist all the time.

To Kathy, a devoutly religious woman, the situation was unbearable. As soon as possible she went to court for an annulment, and the judge granted her a decree. The judge said the marriage lacked the "meeting of the minds" that was essential to make any contract binding.

While the law will tolerate a reasonable amount of "salesmanship" in court, it will not tolerate deception that strikes at the heart of the marriage relation.

However, not every statement connected with religious matters is considered to be that vital.

Take another case in which the bridegroom, having promised to go through a church wedding after the civil ceremony, failed to carry out his promise. For five months he managed to find one excuse after another for staying away from the church.

At last his wife filed suit for an annulment. But this time, the court turned her down. The court reasoned that if she was willing to put up with her husband's excuses for five months, the religious ceremony could not have been so important to her after all.

Of course, the more firmly the marriage is established, the more reluctant the courts are to annul.

A number of cases have been based on the premarital consent by one spouse to have the children raised in the religion of the other spouse. In this situation, even if the consent turns out to be fraudulent, courts have generally refused to find enough grounds for an annulment.

Reason: with the couple having dwelt together for years as husband and wife, and with children already in existence, it is very late indeed to declare that the marriage had been invalid from the start.

Why the good neighbor made lunch 37,000 times.

If you're a needy kid, with an uncertain home life, that free school lunch can be mighty important.

But what do you do when summer comes? No school, no lunch.

Somebody down in Tennessee had the compassion to think of this. And The American Red Cross—America's Good Neighbor—helped out in a massive lunch program for 600 kids—all summer long. Red Cross Volunteers even delivered lunches by car, when parents were ill, or unable to get their kids to the lunch centers.

You may not think about free lunches very much, if you live on a nice street; where nobody goes hungry. But it represents just what Red Cross is all about.

Because The American Red Cross is a home town affair. That's why you find us doing different things in different home towns.

We're what you need us to be. Whoever you are.

Wherever you are.

And isn't that what a Good Neighbor is all about?

Be a good neighbor. Help

The Good Neighbor.

DEATHS

ALVIN MILLER SUMMY
Alvin Miller Summy, 55, father of Alvin J. Summy of Bay St. Louis, died at 3:15 a.m. Saturday, April 7, at Gulfport Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for five days.

A native of Black Hawk County, Iowa, he resided in Waterloo, Iowa, prior to moving to Gulfport eight years ago, following his retirement as an inspector for Rath Packing Company. He was a member of Gulfport First Baptist Church.

Survivors, in addition to his son, are his wife, Mrs. Neva Maust Summy, Gulfport; three other sons, Glen J. Summy, Ft. Smith, Ark.; Ken D. Summy, Gulfport; and Verle E. Summy, Waterloo; a daughter, Mrs. Leon (Marvilyn) Williams, Chicago, Ill.; a brother, Jay Summy, Delmar, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Esther Boyer, Pasadena, Calif.; and Mrs. Owen (Velma) Hershberger, Waterloo; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A prayer service was held at Lang Funeral Home chapel, Gulfport, at 8:30 p.m. Sunday with Dr. John H. Traylor Jr., pastor First Baptist Church, Gulfport, officiating.

Following services the body was sent to Locke Funeral Home in Waterloo for services and interment Tuesday in Orange Cemetery.

Mrs. Janette Tuite, 79, died Friday, April 6, at Hancock General Hospital shortly after arrival.

Mrs. Tuite, born September

18, 1902, in New Orleans, resided there prior to moving to Bay St. Louis. She was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Bay St. Louis.

Her only survivor is a son, Elmer Tuite, Bay St. Louis.

Funeral services were held at 1:15 p.m. Monday from Riemann-Fahy Funeral Home chapel followed by religious rites at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Daniel Gallagher, associate pastor, officiating. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery with Harry Forch, Ronnie Forch, August Usher Sr., Edward Schmal, John B. Tuite Jr. and John B. Tuite Sr. as pallbearers.

MELTON BOLTON
Melton Bolton, 69, brother of Mrs. Cora Coe of Waveland, died at 9 a.m., March 31, at Prayer Tower Nursing Home, New Orleans, where he had resided for the past three months.

Mr. Bolton was a native of Bendale, Miss.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Coe are another sister, Mrs. Carrie Bouchee, New Orleans; three brothers, Fred Bolton, Los Angeles, Calif.; Eddie Bolton, Slidell, La.; and Rev. George Bolton, Festus, Mo.

To The Citizens Of The City Of Bay St. Louis

I come not as a stranger to the voters of Bay St. Louis but as a truly humble citizen asking for your support in the City election. I have come before you on numerous occasions and asked for your support in various elections. This is the first time I have sought your support for a city office. I am seeking the office of Commissioner of the City of Bay St. Louis.

I am fully qualified for the office in that I have been a book keeper, office manager, Superintendent of schools, class room teacher, and I have been associated with NASA in management for the past 9 years.

I served as your State Representative from 1960-1964. I am proud of my record in that office and of my accomplishments. I served as president for two years of the Mississippi Wildlife Federation and represented the state of Mississippi in Chicago, Ill. and Portland, Oregon on the national level. I am presently serving as chairman of the board of Directors of M.W.F. I was recently elected President of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club.

I feel that my experience in government and public service, as well as my ability to cooperate with others to get the job done, will be of great value to the city of Bay St. Louis and its people in the tremendous job ahead.

Our city needs men who possess the qualities of integrity, honesty, strong leadership, and men who have a great desire to see the city grow to its fullest capacity. I know that I possess these qualities. Won't you please give me the chance to help make our city grow and prosper?

Improvement Program Offered To Officials

A statewide professional improvement program for municipal clerks, assessors and tax collectors was announced today by Dr. W.M. Bost, director of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The program is funded by the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of the Civil Service Commission in cooperation with the Governor's office. The City Clerks, Assessors and Tax Collectors Association of Mississippi is a co-sponsor.

Bost said the program will provide training for these local officials in the state's 300 municipalities leading to a Certified Municipal Clerk certificate for those participating.

"Many municipal clerks have had no formal training in the duties and responsibilities of their positions. They depend upon precedents established functions they must perform," Bost said.

He added that the statewide program would be a significant boost to the training opportunities available for municipal officials. "Technically qualified training personnel and well-planned training sessions designed to fit the needs of local governments will be provided," he continued.

William W. Linder, special projects coordinator with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service will be the project director. A specialist with expertise in training and public administration will be hired to conduct the program.

The education committee of the City Clerks, Assessors, and Tax Collectors Association will help design the curriculum and tailor the program to the needs of the municipalities. Joe Price, city clerk of Clinton, is chairman of the education committee. Mrs. Inez Nowell, city clerk in Kosciusko, is president of the association.

Training will be offered in areas such as: public administration, public relations, personnel management, employee relations and office management.

"We will survey the needs at the local level and develop a meaningful training program. This will then be presented at the annual meeting of the City Clerks, Assessors and Tax Collectors Association for adoption," the Extension director continued. "And hopefully, the first training seminar will be held in connection with this meeting."

Two-day seminars will be planned for each of four geographical locations every three months. "This will bring the seminars close to the home of the trainees and make it possible for more clerks to attend," Bost said.

In addition to the training sessions, a "Handbook for Municipal Clerks, Assessors and Collectors" containing 15 chapters of information and procedures about the duties and responsibilities of these officials is being published. Selected members of the City Clerks, Assessors and Tax Collectors Association are editing the various chapters in cooperation with the Extension Service. The loose-leaf designed handbook will be distributed at the annual meeting of the association in June.

Andre Arceneaux, Bay St. Louis tax collector is the only Gulf Coast Municipal official working on the booklet.

Capacity Of Generating Plant Will Be Doubled

Mississippi Power Company today announced plans to double the capacity of its proposed Jackson County steam electric generating plant, to be built north of Moss Point and Pascagoula. Two units of 800,000 kilowatts each are now planned, and with associated offices, shops, and substations, the total cost is estimated to exceed $175 million.

Victor J. Daniel, company president, in making the announcement said that the initial generating unit is scheduled for operation in early 1976, with the second unit to be completed in the spring of 1978.

Daniel stated that the company will request the Mississippi Public Service Commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to build the second unit.

"The electric energy requirements of our customers continue to grow at a rapid pace," he explained. "Our normal growth rate will be accelerated by shortages of natural gas and other petroleum products and by the electrical energy that will be required to operate various pollution control systems. The building of this plant under the planned time schedule is essential as we meet our responsibility of supplying this energy when it is needed and at the lowest possible cost."

A number of large firms were invited to bid for the entire project as general contractors, and a contract has been awarded to the low bidder, Brown and Root, Inc., of Houston, Texas. Work on the project should begin shortly.

Daniel said that based on present investment ratios and tax levels, upon completion of both units, over $4.5 million each year in additional tax payments will have been added to Mississippi Power Company's present ad valorem tax and franchise payments to Jackson County and its municipalities, which in 1972 exceeded $400,000. Over one-third of the additional taxes will go toward supporting public schools in the county. "In designing the generating units for the Jackson County plant, detailed studies have been conducted on fuel quality and quantity, emission control devices, and wasteheat disposal techniques to insure that construction and operation of the plant will be compatible with the local environment and meet requirements of the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission and the federal Environmental Protection Agency," Daniel pointed out. "Both generating units at the new plant will burn low-sulfur fuel oil which will be delivered to the site by pipeline. The plant will be equipped with a 350-foot high reinforced concrete chimney for the high altitude dispersal of vapor and two highly efficient electrostatic precipitators for removal of particulate matter from stack emissions. A closed-cycle cooling water system will avoid the necessity of releasing heated water into the Pascagoula River," he concluded.

The $175-million Jackson County Steam Plant, when completed, is expected to initially provide regular employment for approximately 80 persons, most of whom with their families will make their homes in the Moss Point-Pascagoula area.

Homemakers To Participate In Flower Show

Edwardsville Extension Homemakers Club met last Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Edna Poolson, Club president.
Mrs. Norvin Fayard, vice president, read a letter on Health and Safety. Mrs. Poolson reminded members of the flower and vegetable show to be held April 27 at the Agriculture Center and asked that they participate in the show and also in the dress review scheduled for May.
Plans to entertain veterans from the Gulfport Hospital were discussed and the date will be set later.
The meeting closed with the thought for the month, "Even the Woodpecker Uses His Head."
Mrs. Herman Holden hosted the social hour.

Billy Maggio will be playing in the Natchitoches, La. Country Club Golf Tournament. Wife, Connie, and daughter, Tonya along with Bill will be visiting the Maggio's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Barner and Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Maggio.

Raising money for the Volunteer Fire Dept. can be fun. Genny Milam has planned a crayfish and crab boil for the residents Friday, April 13, in the Holiday Village Recreation Area. See you there.

Kay Gex, who has been on the sick list for sometime, has recuperated and is busy heading the Auxiliary Fire Department and the Garden Club.

Channel 13 TV Station has been featuring a special golfing program every Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. The golfing tips from Fletcher White, Diamondhead Golf Pro and the other golf pros from this area featured on this program are a Scotsman's delight.

Hurry and get back to Diamondhead, Fred Curet. Everyone misses you.

STATEMENT BY Eddie Engelhorn

Everyone knows the rising cost of government, unless stopped, is going to break this country. Over-taxation leads to revolution, history has proven. So let's take an initial step. I am for economy in government and I won't need a battery of secretaries and assistants. I wonder if my competitors realize the amount of work involved in the job of Utilities Commissioner and City Clerk - and the remuneration? It takes a man who is half attorney and half accountant with lots of fortitude and I think I proved mine after Hurricane Camille when I was City Administrative Assistant and Deputy City Clerk.

BACKGROUND
Since moving to Bay St. Louis 25 years ago I worked in a law office four years; moved to the Courthouse as Deputy Clerk of Courts; joined the court reporting firm of Sisson & Grant and was Court Reporter pro tempore for Circuit Court (three counties). Was also general writer and Sports Editor for the Echo and columnist for the Clarion-Ledger. Also Chief Clerk in the Comptroller's Office for the prime contractors at the test site. In New Orleans I was Assistant Office Manager for the City-Federal Paving and Sub-surface Drainage Program employing more than 12,000 persons. Also Supervisor of Stores Records, Delta Shipyard which involved perpetual inventory and a physical inventory every three months of all hardware, pumps, etc. My department employed more than 50 men. Among other education have had two years accounting at S. J. Peters High, New Orleans, and one year at Tulane Night School. I have a four-year honorable discharge from the U.S. Naval Reserve. Start a common-sense, economy-minded form of government by voting for

Poet Honored

Renee Viesca, librarian at St. Leo the Great School in New Orleans and member of the Louisiana State Poetry Society, received a certificate making her an honorary fellow of the La. State Authors' Society. The award was presented to her and others by Dr. George Wm. Noel Cooper on Saturday April 7, 1973. Dr. Cooper was appointed Poet Laureate of Louisiana March 15.

Miss Viesca lived on Leonhard Ave. in Bay St. Louis for many years and is well known by many local people. She was honored for her work which includes the publishing of two books of Poetry: "Tribute in Verse" and "Echoes of St. Leo's. She has sent both of her books to the St. Stanislaus library. The latter has a poem in it about St. Stanislaus and also contains a poem about her home on Leonhard Ave.

Miss Viesca is at present working on her third book of poetry, which contains among other things, many local references to Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Coast. Miss Viesca will participate in the La. State Poetry Society Festival which will be held on April 28.

ROBIN LIZANA

Miss Lizana Wins Honor Scholarship

Robin Lizana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Lizana of Bay St. Louis, was awarded a $100 scholarship to the college of her choice at the convention sponsored by the Mississippi Association of National Honor Societies held recently at Starkville High School.

Robin is president of the Student Council, vice-president of the National Honor Society, and was captain of the basketball team in her senior year. As a 1973 graduate, Robin was selected by the faculty for the 1973 Tiger Hall of Fame.

Robin plans to major in biology at either University of Southern Mississippi or Xavier University, New Orleans, La.

WORKSHOP

There will be a Workshop on Decoupage held in the Agricultural Center Building on Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis. The workshop will be Wednesday April 18, 1973 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Dixie O. Parker, Extension Home Economist will conduct the training. Everyone is invited to attend.

CE Festival Will Feature Puppets

A puppet theatre with a continental touch will be a highlight of the upcoming Christ Episcopal School's Spring Festival, slated for April 28 at the elementary school in Bay St. Louis.

Through the instigation and under the direction of CEDS French instructor Mrs. Rena Schmiegel, the puppet theatre will present continuous entertainment for festival patrons throughout the afternoon of the fair. The attractive theatre, which will be situated in the music room across from the main school building, has been especially designed and constructed for the French department and will be retained after the festival as a permanent educational aid.

Although French instruction is compulsory at Christ Episcopal Day School from kindergarten through sixth grade, only fifth and sixth grade students will be involved as puppeteers in the theatre productions for the festival.

The series of plays to be presented are geared to young audiences and although performed in French, the action can be easily understood and enjoyed by non-French speaking audiences. Mrs. Schmiegel stated. Scripts for the puppet plays have been patterned after those traditionally performed in puppet theatres in France.

Other activities planned to tempt fairgoers will include a bake booth, garden booth, an entire section of games for young participants, a grab bag, books and records, handicrafts and white elephants booths, and a space bubble.

A snack booth serving hamburgers, hot dogs, roasted corn and soft drinks will be open continuously during fair hours.

A change in date for the festival dinner has been announced by festival chairman. Traditionally served the evening of the festival, the dinner this year has been scheduled for the preceding Saturday, April 21, from 5 to 8 p.m. in Virginia Hall. The dinner will be prepared and served by "Big John" Rutherford.

The festival will officially open at 2 p.m. with a musical pageant by school students.

Echoes

New Principal Named To Hancock North Central

Hancock County Board of Education trustees voted unanimously April 3 to appoint General G. Breeland as principal of Hancock North Central High School effective July 1, 1973. Breeland will serve in that capacity under a three-year contract.

School board members also accepted separate motions to reappoint L. C. Ladner as principal of Gulfview Elementary School and James Baldree, principal of Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearllington.

Board president Horace Davis presented a report from the State Department of Education, following a school board requested evaluation of the Title III program now in effect at Hancock North Central Elementary School. The evaluation came as a result of considerable controversy in past months over the relative effectiveness of the program.

The evaluation, conducted by Division of Instruction personnel, was based on a one-day visit to the school. Although the report stated that "most of the faculty apparently show a real interest in the program and are committed to this type of instruction", several suggestions were made for a general re-vamping of the program, especially in the areas of administration and teacher training.

The following suggestions set forth in the report are printed verbatim:

1. Apparently the program has made a successful beginning;

although, a more valid evaluation can be made after the program has been in effect for two or three years.

2. A learning center which would be accessible to all of the teachers would be very helpful.

3. Provisions have not been made for science and social studies to the same extent that they have in some other areas. In order to implement an individualized instructional program in these two areas, it is just as essential, and perhaps more so, to have materials for instruction on an individual basis.

4. When individualized instruction is offered, it is more effective when it encompasses all major subject areas.

5. In-service training for the teachers is necessary for effectively continuing the program.

6. More planning for the teachers needs to be provided.

7. Consideration should be given to offering remedial reading no earlier than the third grade, continuing through the sixth grade.

8. A coordinator for the Title III program should be provided.

9. Consideration should be given to maintaining self-contained classrooms in grades one and two. This could be accomplished by means of team teaching.

An immediate decision on whether or not to retain the program was necessary, Davis told the board, as April 18 was the deadline set for submitting the school board budget including an allowance for Title II funds.

Davis added that he was strongly in favor of continuing the program as he felt it could be greatly beneficial to the county school students. Application of the program could be upgraded now that trustees better understood principles involved and guidelines for administration had been received, he continued.

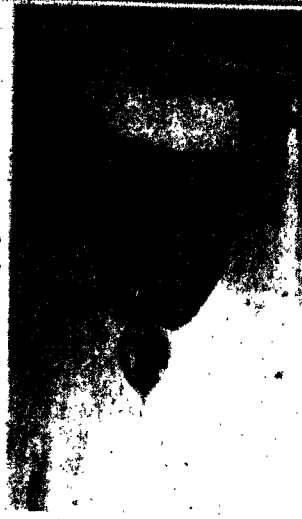

Davis said it was his understanding that, even though federal funding was approved and the program continued, it could be stopped at any time the board may deem advisable.

A motion to continue Title III, submitted by Eric Larsen and seconded by Thomas Shaw, was passed by a four to one vote. John Banks entered the single dissenting vote.

In an unrelated action, the board passed a motion declaring Good Friday a legal holiday for all county schools.

In other business, the board heard complaints from several mothers of students of administrative problems at Hancock North Central, as well as a request to consider building a high school on the Gulfview campus.

The meeting was recessed until April 10, 6:30 p.m.

Record Attendance Views Flower Show

More people attended Bay-Waveland Flower Show last weekend than ever before. The theme "Nature Speaks," sparked enthusiasm for 36 entries in the Artistic Design Division; in spite of heavy rains the night before the show, 135 horticulture specimens were on display. The Tri-color award in the Artistic Design Division was given to Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., while Mrs. Paul Miller captured the Creativity Award in the same division. Other blue ribbon winners included Mesdames Augustus Elmer, Gordon Gleim, L.H. Ott, Herman Mazarakis and J. Courtney.

In the Horticulture Division blue ribbon winners were Mesdames H. Baron, Russell, A. Alexander, S. George, Gleim, J. Pritchett, Sister Patricia Sullivan, H. Haines, Irby Charing, Reuben Gray, P. Trentel, Elmer, T. Malone. Awards of Merit were won by Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. H. Baron; Mrs. Baron also won the Sweepstakes Award and Mrs. Gray was given the Arboreal Award.

In the High School Gardener Division Sherry McGinity won a blue ribbon. In the Junior Gardener Division Helene Hill, Anna di Benedetto and John Ladner were awarded blue ribbons, with Anna receiving the Junior Award of Achievement.

Mrs. Joseph E. Vignerie Jr. was hospitality chairman for the judges luncheon and Mrs. Terry Malone was hostess chairman for the show after it was opened to the public. Mrs. Clarence A. Evans was general chairman with Mrs. Herbert Baron as co-chairman.

Functions Of Regional Planning Commission Told

The public today is confronted with a multitude of federal-state programs and agencies to which they are unable to relate. The purpose of this article is to acquaint the people of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River Counties with Gulf Regional Planning Commission - an agency dealing with the problems of today while searching for solutions to the problems of tomorrow.

Gulf Regional Planning Commission is an agency established by state legislation for the purpose of assisting the people and officials of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River Counties in planning for advancement of the counties. This includes such basics as water and sewer, recreation areas, fire facilities, streets and highways and a host of other items that are taken for granted. Gulf Regional Planning Commission's main objective is planning. The next obvious question is planning for what? GRPC is attempting, through planning, to make sure that you and future generations have the basic requirements for life - drinkable water, breathable air and tillable land. These may seem as mere words, but as the song says "What chance do you have when the well runs dry." And what are you going to do shortly when you turn on the water and nothing happens because the hour designated for use is up. The only thing you will be able to do is to wait until the next day. Farfetched? Perhaps. But in the words of Al Smith "let's look at the facts." In 1960 census figures, the combined population of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River Counties was 211,161. In 1970 census figures showed a combined population of 267,740 for an over-all increase of 26.5 percent or a percentage increase of almost 27 percent. Assuming the same growth rate, population by 1980 will be 339,502 for the combined four county area. These growth rate figures are unmatched by any four adjacent counties in the State of Mississippi.

Many small communities have benefited from the many programs administered by Gulf Regional Planning Commission through the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

As Bill Elliott, the Harrison County Planning Director, stated recently "doors have opened that have been shut prior to GRPC's existence. We are now moving so fast it is difficult to imagine where we will be in the next four or five years."

"With all the do's and don'ts that have been imposed on this area, we are fortunate to have a group such as Gulf Regional Planning Commission to aid us," stated Pat Connor, Mayor of Ocean Springs.

The area would normally increase in population for awhile, due to its attractive qualities, but without someone to maintain the orderliness and attractiveness, the area would soon diminish in popularity and population. This is where the true value of regional planning has paid large dividends, with the promise of even larger returns in the future. The small area programs are encouraged by the regional agency and tied together to form the overall picture by GRPC.

After Camille, the Gulf Regional Planning Commission was the focal point for many of the programs that aided and are still aiding the recovery of this area. A review of these programs and their accomplishments will be discussed in a later article. The offices of GRPC are located in Building No. 39, CB Base, Gulfport. The public is invited to visit the offices or to call (804-1167) should they have any questions or comments. The Commission welcomes comments on its actions and programs from concerned citizens of its area.

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS - The first officers in the newly chartered Coast Episcopal High School Honor Society are Anne Hawkins, vice-president; Bill Clinkscales, president; Jane Boughton, secretary; and Jenny Bates, treasurer. Officers were installed and charter members inducted during ceremonies at the school Mar. 23.

Bay High Students Are 'Physically Fit'

Of approximately seventy Bay High students, twenty-five of them passed the Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Test administered March 1 at the Bay St. High gymnasium.

A team of four Marines, led by Gy Sgt W.W. Miles, conducted this tough and grueling test consisting of five main events: sit-ups, pull-ups, push-ups, standing broad jump and three hundred yard shuttle run.

To achieve a perfect score of five hundred points a participant must do 100 situps within two minutes, thirty pull-ups without a rest, sixty push-ups without stopping, standing broad jump of ten feet and three hundred yard shuttle run within forty four seconds. A minimum passing score is two hundred and fifty points.

There were twenty five passing scores for Bay High: David Johnson with a high of 375, Irvin Hawkins 343, Dale Lolecano 325, David Bourgeois 322, David Grace 297, Chuck Martinez 293, Freddie Lewis 292, Glenn Jackson 287, Mike Richardson 284, Leslie Hinson 279, David Trelles 276, Alvin La Fontaine 269, John McPhail 268, Greg Singleton 266, Franklin Davis 266, Anthony Summers 266, John Grundy 264, Hubert Seals 262, James Burkes 258, Russell Brokmeier 258, James Thompson 258, Mike Gibbons 256, Rudy Tillman 252, Mike Magee 252, and Ed Turnipseed 250.

This test is given to over 300,000 students representing more than 1,200 high schools throughout the nation. The test is conducted in cooperation with the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports and is modeled after the exercises used by the Marines to test the fitness of their recruits.

General Robert E. Cushman, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, said: "The success of the program demonstrates the keen interest that young people have for physical fitness. And, of course, the Corps' concern for the development of our nations future leaders includes physical, mental and moral fitness. This program is one very important way in which we believe we form a partnership with the youth of America."
